

Leaflet produced by Tony McGrath
Community Learning Disability Nurse
East Lancs PCT
tel 01282 648238

References

Raynaud's Syndrome

What is it?

Raynaud's is a condition that affects how the blood flows to the fingers, toes, ears and nose.

During an attack it stops the blood getting to these parts of the body

What Happens?

During the attack the fingers/toes will:-

- go white, and may even turn blue.
- Then will go red and burning when the blood returns.

